CIVIC SPIRIT

Since the founding of our country, citizens, immigrants, religious institutions, veterans, and schools have recited prayers for the country. Prayer is as much a form of gratitude and praise as it is a request or a wish. Today, we ask you to create your own prayer for America. What are you grateful for? What do you hope for a government designed by and for the people?

Please choose from the following prompts or use a combination of the language below to write your own prayer for the United States of America:

For Our Community, I (we) pray
For Fellow Citizens, I (we) invite
For Our Democracy, I (we) hope
